MISSING MAN MAY HAVE FAKED DEATH

Dambrosky, Missing Since Wednesday, Believed to Be Playing a Cruel Joke—His Watch and Damaged Boat Found, but No Body.

Dambrosky, of 13 Commercial avenue, who disappeared from his home last Wednesday after playing a cruel joke on his neighbors and the authorities, who undertook a search for him, is believed to have faked his death. He was last seen rowing his boat in the Raritan River, and when he failed to return home, the suspicion was that he had been playing a cruel joke on his neighbors. But repeated efforts to find his body by dragging the river failed of success, though his watch was found.

GERMANS PLAN NEW ASSAULT ON FLANDERS LINE

LONDON, May 13.—German attacks on both the British and Belgian fronts may foreshadow a new offensive movement against the left of the allied line, it is believed here. The drive resulted in the Germans penetrating into the British front lines trenches on a front of about 500 yards northeast of Vermelles, near Hulluch, where the Germans have been pounding steadily against the British for some days. At this point the British lines are only about three miles from Lens. The counter attacks of the British, the War Office reports, have resulted in the recovery of portions on the ground lost.

Schoolboys Attack Teachers in Boycott on School Lunchroom

NEW YORK, May 13.—Led by Horace Greeley, 3rd, a grandson of the famous editor, 400 pupils in Erasmus High School, Brooklyn, attacked a squad of teachers who tried to prevent them from leaving the school grounds, and in the melee that followed many received black eyes and bloody noses. The students have for some time been boycotting the school lunchroom, claiming that the food served there was not fit to eat. The school rules, however, forbade their leaving the grounds to get their luncheon anywhere else. Yesterday the pupils decided to take matters into their own hands, and at noon a crowd of several hundred boys assembled and rushed the big iron gates on Flatbush avenue. Teachers who attempted to bar their way were bowled aside like ten-pins and the boys escaped.

A weird sensation came over the audience Monday night at the First Reformed Church when they listened to a duet rendered by a single singer. They heard two voices but they saw but one singer. Yes, Miss Spencer was actually singing a duet with herself. The fact that Miss Spencer's living voice and her recorded voice were the same is due to the fact that Mr. Edison has created a new art—Sound Re-Creation. Other re-creations may be heard daily at MONTALVO'S. M10-tf

Over 20,000 women were numbered among the marchers, the start of their division being put off to late afternoon. The early part of the parade was composed exclusively of men. The first movement in the great parade started at the City Hall, when Mayor Mitchell, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Rear Admiral Usher, the reviewing officers, left for the reviewing stand. By that time the streets were lined with men, women and children, and it was estimated that by the time the last marcher had traversed the route from Bowling Green to Fifty-ninth street fully 2,000 would have seen the parade.
