

Community Chautauqua at South River-Four Sayreville Soldiers Abroad

SOUTH RIVER NEWS

BIG UNION SERVICE TO BE HELD IN COMMUNITY CHAUTAUQUA TENT TONIGHT

SOUTH RIVER, July 12.—Winning the war was a task into which all of us put a great deal of effort and from which we gained a great deal of experience. Consequently the natural desire of every one, now that the war is over, is to put the same whole-hearted energy into the new tasks that lie before us in this period of reconstruction and Americanization.

The Community Chautauqua which is showing in South River at the corner of George and Thomas streets for the third time goes a long way toward serving as a stimulus along this line. The directors of the Chautauqua realize that something genuine in the form of entertainment and recreation is required in order to satisfy the large outlook we have gained from the world war. It's to meet this new spirit that the 1919 Chautauqua has been designed. The programs that have been presented, and will be presented before the closing night, have introduced to the people of South River an array of talent that could not be exceeded in their particular line of entertainment.

The thirty-eight men and women who signed as guarantors to assume any deficit not exceeding $1,000 are kind of citizens who make a community worth while by their activities and their sacrifices in the interest of others. Of course, there is always a little group of critics who cannot see any good to be derived from this, that or the other thing and needless to say the Chautauqua proposition comes in for its share of criticism.

The great problem today is to get people to think and to base their opinions on present day problems with the idea in mind to find the solution to same. The reason that some communities never make any progress is due to the fact that the inhabitants of such communities do not use their good matter of thought to think an original thought, consequently there is little progress because in the last analysis thought is mother of action. If the Chautauqua does nothing in the line of entertainment, it does make people think and the thoughts are elevating, constructive and inspiring. An uplifting mood is created in a community that is fortunate enough to be visited by a Chautauqua Company.

Building Line Should Be Graceful.

As the outward appearance of an individual is largely determined by the idea in mind to find the solution to same, so is the beauty of a street influenced by the type of buildings that are permitted to be erected. Of course there is a section of Main street that is greatly marred by a number of small shacks that would never take a prize for their architectural lines, but as they are erected before the borough had a building code to regulate the type of structures to be erected, we shall reserve our criticism except to express a hope that some day the owners of same will be overtaken by a progressive spirit that will urge them to replace the unsightly buildings with up-to-date structures. The building code, however, gives the inspector absolute control over the type of buildings that are erected in certain sections of the borough, and he should exercise his authority without reserve, and his view-point should be the future and adjoining properties will be affected by the new structure. Then, too, the inspector should establish a building line that should be followed if the proper appearance of the streets is to be preserved. One building in and another building out presents an unsightly appearance, and this can be avoided if the inspector, using the authority granted to him by the building code, will establish a front line and whenever a new structure is planned see that the owner "toes the mark."

New Pool Parlor Opened.

The grand opening of the South River billiard parlor at 17 Ferry street, was celebrated Saturday evening. A large number of people visited the parlor and inspected the surroundings. They also made the acquaintance of Mr. Nassif Elias and Sons, the proprietors, who presented each of the visitors with a beautiful souvenir. Price's full orchestra furnished music from 6 to 9 p. m. The new billiard parlor is equipped with eight Brunswick-Balke tables.

New News Dealer.

Charles Booraem has purchased the Home News paper route formerly conducted by Mrs. Sarah Van Hise, and with the assistance of his two boys, will manage same to the entire satisfaction of all subscribers. Mrs. Van Hise has been identified with the Home News as a distributor for more than thirty years and at one time was the South River correspondent. Owing to her advanced years she deemed it wise to relieve herself of the paper route which she had managed so carefully. Willet and Pierson Booraem, sons of Charles Booraem, have been distributing the Home News for several years and are well acquainted with the route and management of same. They were employed by Mrs. Van Hise.

Circulating Intercol Canal Petition.

The business men of South River are interested in the intercol canal proposition and in order to get the matter before the State Legislature for proper consideration, a petition is being circulated in the borough for the signatures of those who desire to have the waterway constructed as soon as possible. The petition will be presented to Assemblyman De Voe and he will be requested to do his utmost to get the State behind the movement and to hurry it through with all reasonable speed. The termini of the canal will be Morgan and Bordentown. According to the plans of the engineers the canal will pass near Old Bridge and it is a conceded fact that even at that distance it will be a great benefit to the commercial and industrial life of South River.

Union Service at Chautauqua Tent.

A big union service of all the Protestant Churches will be held Sunday evening in the Community Chautauqua tent at the corner of Thomas and George street. Rev. Tillman Braddy, a student at Crozer's Seminary, of Chester, Pa., will officiate. Rev. Mr. Braddy is a candidate for the pastorate of the Tabernacle Baptist Church to fill the vacancy of Rev. George Lamborn, who recently took up farming for the benefit of his health. Music will be furnished by the combined choirs of the Episcopal, Baptist, German Presbyterian and Methodist Churches. MILLTOWN TO GET IDEAS ABOUT CIVIC PLANNING FROM NOTED EXPERT TO VISIT BORO WEDNESDAY

THE SECOND MEETING of the Milltown Chamber of Commerce will be held Wednesday evening, July 16th, in Borough Hall there, when the very interesting plans and ideas discussed at the former meeting of that body will receive further attention and consideration.

The Sunday Times, which is greatly interested in the development of Milltown and sees wonderful possibilities for this town, has secured a well known authority on city planning and civic improvement to address the meeting Wednesday evening. He is Mr. Perry R. MacNelle, who will give constructive suggestions for the improvement of Milltown along the best lines.

Has Had Long and Varied Experience

Mr. MacNelle has had a career that will fit him for the high position he now occupies in the engineering world. He studied first at Columbia University, and followed these studies by a series of investigations in Europe in the field of industrial housing, engineering and architecture. He has been a member of the engineering corps of the N. Y. N. H. & H. Railroad and has carried on extensive real estate and land surveys covering immense projects, besides being employed as a structural engineer for many large and notable buildings.

In-Partnership With Horace B. Mann

About twenty years ago he formed a partnership with Horace B. Mann, and the firm of Mann & MacNelle was started with offices in New York and Chicago. In the ensuing years, in addition to the regular line, the firm has specialized in industrial housing, municipal expansion, zoning and city planning; among the many industrial housing projects developed has been that of the Good-year Tire and Rubber Company at Akron, Ohio.

PERRY R. MACNELLE

Active War Work.

When Dean Herman Schneider of the University of Cincinnati was asked to establish the Industrial Service Section of the Ordnance Department he requested the services of Mr. MacNelle to organize and direct a Housing Branch of the Ordnance Department. Under Mr. MacNelle's direction all housing activities of the Ordnance Department for a period of approximately one year were carried on, and the firm of Mann & MacNelle was retained as consulting architects. The work entailed not only layout of villages and design of houses, but careful study of community facilities and activities together with analyses of industrial and civic conditions in active centers in practically every section of the country.

Well Fitted to Advise.

It may easily be seen from the foregoing that Mr. MacNelle is well qualified to talk about matters pertaining to the development of towns and cities. No citizen of Milltown should fail to hear him at the meeting. In fact it has a chance to become the "best looking town" (if we may use such words in connection with a community) that New Jersey has. It is in fact it has a chance to become a city.

Judge Daly to Speak at Independence Day Celebration Monday

MILLTOWN, July 12.—Judge Peter F. Daly, of New Brunswick, and Captain Charles Reed, also of that city have been secured by the first department of the local Chamber of Commerce to address the people of this borough and surrounding places Monday night at Milltown Park when the Independence Day of France will be fittingly observed here.

Tomorrow night's celebration promises to surpass anything of its kind in the borough. The evening's anniversary program will start at 7 o'clock with a big street parade, led by the Red Cross, a French school children in their artistic costumes, French war veterans and Michelin band along with the borough officials. The parade will end up at the Michelin Park, a patriotic meeting will be held. County Judge Daly is an orator of unusual character and no doubt will thrill the people with his message, while in securing Captain Reed to give a description of his army experience the committee has secured a splendid man. Captain Reed, you will recall, was severely wounded and he has many illustrations to give to the people tomorrow night. Miss Gertrude Kuhlthaus soprano soloist of the M. E. Church, will sing the "Star Spangled Banner."

The Michelin Park will be all lighted up and a block dance, the first of its kind here, will be given after the meeting, music being furnished by the Michelin Band.

Mrs. Harold Gilnes and son are spending two weeks at Asbury Park, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. John Helmel, of Akron, Ohio, are spending a few days with relatives in town.

Mrs. Winfield Pine, Sr., is enjoying a week's vacation with relatives at Mt. Beacon.

Red Cross Notes.

The members of the Red Cross in costume will participate in the parade on Monday night in observance of the French National holiday. Mrs. C. W. Kuhlthaus points out that any one who joined in the membership drive is of course, a member, and it is asked a large number turn out to take part in the parade which will be a short one. White head-gear should be worn if possible and also white dresses.

"Say, what's a 'dead language' any way?" "I should say English must be, the way it gets murdered around here."

"The army is a great life," says Bugler Weck, "but you have to get on to it and never did I feel so bad as during the first days of the army life." He said that he had been through a good many places in France and only met one local boy while over there, he being Private John J. Miller who was with the General Headquarters Company and received his discharge yesterday.

Home-concocted Brew Has Terrible Wallop

CARMI, Ill.—A local resident has a note drink of such potency that the police, while not sure that there was alcohol in it, knew it had a tremendous kick, anyway so they arrested the inventor.

Mr. C. C. has been learned the man put a pot on to boil, making up four or five gallons at a time, enough for a day, if too much "company" did not call. The principal ingredients were corn meal, raisins, sugar and a certain kind of acid purchased at the drug stores. This, boiled together, produced a concoction that would make a Buechus crazy. Those who know say one drink would make one talk Chinese fluently; after a second one could shove a grasshopper with a buzz saw, and with a third one could crack hickory nuts on the forehead.
