TRAVELED 3,000 MILES TO PLEAD

Former Member of Perth Amboy Excise Board Admits Embezzling $811.86 — Returned Alone from Los Angeles to Give Himself Up.

Having journeyed unaccompanied all the way from Los Angeles to Perth Amboy, on Friday last Edward Tymrakiewicz gave himself up to the officers of the law and was brought this morning to plead to an indictment charging him with embezzling $811.86 while acting as agent for Balkin Brothers, a liquor firm of Perth Amboy.

H. W. Kehoe represented the prisoner and said Tymrakiewicz was at one time a teacher in the parochial school of St. Stephen's Church in Perth Amboy, and was later elected to the excise board of that city. The election, Mr. Kehoe said, proved to be his undoing, as he began to spend money more freely than his means allowed, and he was thus led to embezzle funds entrusted to his care.

Believing that he could repair his lost fortunes in the "Golden West" the prisoner had gone to Los Angeles, but had failed to secure employment and was literally starving when he decided to communicate with Mr. Kehoe, giving his address and offering to return and face justice.

Twenty Cases Now, and Everyone is Ordered to Be Inoculated — Public Library and Hotel Closed — The Sufferers.

The typhoid fever epidemic is still holding Cranbury in its grip, and the list of cases to to-day numbers twenty. Some of the cases are mild, while others are serious. The residents are becoming nervous over the situation and have implored the State Board of Health to do its utmost to find the source of the disease and stamp it out.

The Board, ever since the first case of the second epidemic in a few months started, has been making rigid investigation, but so far it is baffling. Tomorrow the Board will send an expert to Cranbury, who will take up his residence there and investigate.

It was at first thought that the source came from milk, and one of the largest dairies in the vicinity was ordered to stop supplying patrons with milk until it was absolutely proved that the germ was not from that place. The milk dealer has gone out of business entirely as a result, although nothing has been proven that the disease came from there.

SNEAK THIEF GETS $20 FROM HOME OF "DICK" PELTIER

Chief County Sleuth Was Keeping South Amboy Straight When Robbery Occurred — His Wife Challenges Him, for 'Twas Her Property.

"Hello. This is Dick Peltier. My home has been robbed and I've been touched for $20," were the words of a telephone message that electrified Police Chief Burke, of Perth Amboy, on Saturday night. Report has it that the chief was unkind enough to laugh, and other who know "Nery Dick," as County Detective Peltier is called, are sharing the laugh to-day.

No one would be so unfeeling as to suggest that Mr. Peltier was simply making excuses when he informed his chief, Prosecutor Florence, on Saturday morning that he had a tip that pickpockets were to appear at the Old Home Day celebration in South Amboy. Sufficient to say that "Dick" was detailed to cover the affair, and if it was only an excuse to get a holiday, he reaped due punishment later.

SPENCER MAY RUN INDEPENDENTLY FOR SENATOR

Organization Being Effected for Him Here by Selection of Poll Workers—Friends Hopeful That Party Will Endorse Him.

That the friends of William A. E. J. NAGY IS AGAIN VICTIM OF A THIEF

Over $50 Stolen from Albany Street Store While Proprietor Stood in Front — Silver Change Left Untouched.

A daring burglary, believed to be the work of a professional was committed at the delicatessen store of E. J. Nagy, at 117 Albany street, Saturday evening. The thief made a haul of $52 in paper money. The robbery was committed while Mr. and Mrs. Nagy stood outside in front of the store.

No clue was left by the clever burglar on which the police can work. There is every reason to believe that the thief gained entrance from the rear door and that he was waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Nagy to leave the store. They were out of the place but three minutes. The distance from the cash drawer to the rear door is but a few yards. A clever burglar could have sneaked from the entrance to the cash drawer and then make a quick getaway.

There was coin a plenty in the cash drawer but this was not touched. Neither was any of the contents of the store. The robbery was reported to the police soon after it was discovered. It was only a week ago Saturday evening that this store was broken into after being closed and the cash register rifled. The entrance was gained through a rear window. Mr. Nagy had taken the receipts of the day home with him leaving little to be stolen.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 16.—The German forces operating against Novo Georgievsk have completed the investment of the Russian fortress and a strong assault was made on the outer defenses this morning. A thrilling struggle is expected in the operations about the stronghold as the Russians are strongly fortified with heavy artillery.

Reports vary as to the number of Russian troops left in the city, but it is known that there are from forty to eighty thousand men there, besides a large number of guns and a good supply of food and munitions. It is believed that the Russians will be able to hold out for several weeks at least in the face of any attacks that the Germans may launch.
