Visit to New Public Market Shows Marked Increase in Business

Is New Brunswick's new Public Market a success? It would surely seem so from the above picture, taken on a recent morning.

Scorners and doubters of the popularity of the new Public Market need only make a brief visit to the Burnet street site around five o'clock some fine morning to see that it has been adopted by the people of this city with a will, and that it is an institution that has come to stay.

Long rows of wagons laden with produce of all sorts, farmers struggling with each other for a place to draw up and offer their wares to the crowds of purchasers, housewives pushing and shoving in their eagerness to reach the wagons and get a chance at the bargains offered there, greet the eye on every side.

The present market site has already become inadequate for the large number of farmers who wish to make use of it. Its capacity has been almost doubled since it was first opened, and yet it is still impossible to furnish stalls for all the farmers who want them.

The market has proved itself a boon to the women of the lower part of the city, and it is patronized largely by the thrifty housewives of Burnet street and the rest of the First and Second Wards. But they are not the only patrons of the market, by any means, and ladies from the upper part of the city are not infrequently among the crowds of purchasers. There is even an artistic-looking automobile to be seen standing here and there which has conveyed prospective buyers to the market.

John Letts, the superintendent of the market, generally has his hands full settling disputes between rival farmers and enforcing the rules that have been laid down for the regulation of the market. In the early days of the market there was considerable confusion owing to ignorance of the rules, but most of the farmers who use it are regular patrons, and they have now become familiar with the regulations, so that there is less confusion now than formerly.

Wholesale dealers have also been patronizing the market to a considerable extent. They have found that it is quite as easy for them to pick up good bargains at the market as for the housewives, although the market rules do not permit them to buy unrestrictedly. There is generally a large delegation of them on hand every morning, and they aid in keeping up a brisk trade at the place.

The whole thing seems to be working out in a manner quite in accord with the desires of the buyers of the idea, and their predictions are being amply fulfilled. The only thing in which it has not entirely fulfilled their predictions is that the housewives of the entire city do not seem to be patronizing the market in such large numbers as do those of the lower sections.

This will probably change in time, however. It is a falling of

Mary Pickford to Go to Asbury Park

ASBURY PARK, Aug. 14.—Mary Pickford, the moving picture actress, is coming to Asbury Park on August 25 to see the Baby Parade.

Announcement that "Little Mary" had accepted Mayor Hetrick's invitation to be the city's guest on that day was made yesterday following the receipt of a letter from the Famous Players' Film Company, acknowledging the invitation. Miss Pickford will be entertained at the Monterey Hotel. Her party of six will include Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players' Company.

Miss Pickford will have a box of honor at the right of the queen's pavilion in the Amphitheater.

This announcement was followed by the announcement of two new maids for the court of Queen Titania XV, one of whom, Miss Marlon Burroughs, of this city, will be the Princess Cinderella.

Miss Burroughs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burroughs of Second avenue. She is a charming young woman, prominent in local society circles and has a host of friends among the younger set. Miss Burroughs is an asburn brunette. She is an accomplished dancer and is a devotee of bathing, being an expert swimmer.

The other maid announced yesterday is Miss Marita N. McCullagh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McCullagh, of 223 Riverside Drive, New York.

Miss McCullagh is 17 years of age this month. She is a winsome brunette and is well known to the summer set, having been a season resident here for 10 years. The McCullagh family have a cottage at Sixth and Grand avenues.

Miss McCullagh is a graduate of Hamilton Institute, and this fall she will enter Smith College. She is possessed of a marked musical talent, being an accomplished pianist. Mr. McCullagh is a prominent New York contractor.

LATE PASSENGERS WERE STALLED AT MILLTOWN

had no intimation that there were to be New Brunswickers on the 1 a. m. trolley out of South Amboy, which is due to run only as far as the Milltown car barns, and it is stated that ample accommodations would have been made if such knowledge had been given the Public Service.

It was about 2.30 a. m. that the trouble occurred at Milltown, and it is said that much of it was due to a rough element that had hung around the car barns with the expressed purpose of riding to New Brunswick on the car which brings the trolley to their homes here and which the company is not obliged to run, but does so simply to accommodate their workmen.

So much disorder was shown by this rough element that the car barn employees had to send for the Milltown officers, fearing damage to the property. It is said that a number of men make a practice of remaining in Milltown every Saturday night to ride home on the trolleyman's car and when the large crowd tried to board it Saturday night the crews were fearful of what might happen en route.

It was not until afterward that the company learned that there were a number of very respectable people in the car that left South Amboy at 1 a. m., and who were stalled at Milltown, and it is said a special car would have been dispatched to Milltown to bring them to New Brunswick if one of them had telephoned to the office here.

Extra cars had been running from South Amboy on Saturday night, the last ones leaving there for a through trip at 12.15 Sunday morning.

MANY ENJOY BATHING AT ELMS, HIGHLAND PARK; ARE WELL-BEHAVED

Bathing was enjoyed by another large crowd at the Elms, Highland Park yesterday afternoon. Those who patronize this popular bathing beach during the hot weather are quiet and well-behaved, and it is difficult to understand how any objection could be raised to their bathing at this place. Good order is always maintained, and there are enough adults there to keep the younger folks from going too far with their fun.

Besides the bathing a large number of residents of the Park go down to the Elms and the meadow below the Elms belonging to Frank Ayres, the well-known milkman, to enjoy the cool breezes which come from the river at this point. It is always cool and pleasant under the shade of the trees that line the banks of the river at this point, and it is a treat for many persons who are unable to go down the river in motor or row boats, or out automobiling.

Every year the firm entertains the shipping room employees in this way.

DECLARES LIQUOR TRAFFIC WILL BE THE UNITED STATES' RUINATION

SOUTH RIVER, Aug. 16.—Over three hundred attended the undenominational rally at the Star Theatre, last evening at which Rev. James D. Mason, of Wilmington, declared the liquor traffic was the ruination of the United States.

A standing vote was taken to ascertain the opinion of the assemblage as to how they stood on the liquor traffic and everyone in the theatre was on his feet. Following the rally, over fifty enrollments were taken for the prohibition party.

Rev. William J. Kern had charge of the devotional part of the rally and Rev. W. A. Cobb presided.

Rev. Mason in his address declared that since 1880, the government has been in the hands of either the Republicans or Democrats. During this period the two parties have had trouble in their ranks. It continues to get worse and today the people are clamoring for national prohibition for they have become firm believers in the principles of the party.

"The liquor men control the vote of this country," declared Dr. Mason. "It is not the bankers, the large trust companies or large corporations who control this country but the liquor trust. It is the saloon element who are purchasable and to gain power these votes are easily bought up."

The spokesman emphasized the importance of the church seeing to it that the laws are enforced.

BORDER WARFARE SPREADS RAPIDLY ALONG RIO GRANDE

BROWNEVILLE, Aug. 16.—To protect American residents in the general border warfare with Mexicans, believed to be imminent, more United States troops are arriving to-day to strengthen the forces along the lower Rio Grande.

The zone of disorder is spreading rapidly. Along the border for 1,500 miles the Mexicans are showing their intense hatred of Americans. As a result of these uprisings, Americans on the border are arming and organizing defense forces.

Reports from the lower El Paso valley show that the Mexicans are crossing the river to pillage and rob and murder. At El Paso, Alfred Frances, thirteen, was killed by four soldiers who stood across the river. After firing at the boy, the soldiers, said to be Villa's men, ran into Juarez.

LOCAL MEN ASSIST IN RESCUE WORK AT HOTEL FIRE

Many New Brunswickers who were summering at Asbury Park had an opportunity to witness a spectacular fire on Saturday night, which destroyed the Hotel Carlton, a four-story structure. The hotel was burned to the ground and the loss being about $30,000. Most of the guests were on the boardwalk at the time the fire broke out on the top floor, but the personal belongings of the guests were destroyed.

Two New Brunswickers assisted in the rescue work and helped to carry out the belongings of some of the guests. They were Stanton K. Wylie and Howard J. Groben. Thomas Scully, Jr., son of Congressman Scully, was also with the two New Brunswick young men and helped. The three succeeded in getting out a number of automobiles that were quartered in a garage next to the hotel.

The firemen were handicapped in fighting the flames by lack of water and there was danger of the fire spreading to the garage.

Mrs. King, of this city, went to the Park Saturday night, to engage rooms at the Hotel Carlton, and was surprised to find it in ashes on her arrival.

Among those who were stopping there were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conrad and family of three children, of Perth Amboy. John J. Monigan, of this city, witnessed the fire and described it as being spectacular.

Mrs. Bridget O'Brien, widow of Patrick O'Brien, passed away Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Hardy, 23 Schureman street, after an illness of several weeks. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

Mrs. O'Brien was a woman who possessed a kindly disposition and drew about her many friends. She was for many years a member of St. Peter's Church, from which edifice the funeral will be held on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. O'Brien is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Clarence Hardy, and a son, John O'Brien, the well-known billposter, and one grandchild, Raymond J. Hardy, also a brother, Michael Gribben, of Metuchen. Undertaker Harding has charge of the arrangements.

Benj. Meyers Sent to Reformatory

On his plea of guilty to breaking into the beef house of the Armour Beef Company in this city on August 9 and stealing a ham valued at $2.20, Benjamin Meyers was sentenced by Judge Daly to-day to a full term in the Rahway Reformatory.

It was shown that Meyers was on probation when the offense was committed and Judge Daly remarked in passing sentence that no one can "make a fare out of the probation system." Meyers signed an allegation and was arraigned by Prosecutor Florance.
