STEAMBOAT LINE FOR SOUTH RIVER

Big Project to Be Discussed at Board of Trade Meeting in Booming Borough.

SOUTH RIVER, Aug. 3.—A representative of a New York steamboat company will be present at the Board of Trade meeting to-night, and will present a proposition of considerable interest to the South River people, particularly manufacturers and business men.

The proposition is to institute a steamboat line between South River and New York for the purpose of carrying freight, etc., and if the project proves successful, passenger service will be added.

This is a convenience which can not fall to be of valuable service to the various manufacturers of the borough, as well as all merchants, and all citizens should be interested in securing this mark of improvement to the borough.

To-night at Borough Hall all citizens will be made welcome, whether members of the Board of Trade or not.

C. H. Rogers has opened an undertaking parlor in the Greenwood building, on Perry street. The place is neatly furnished for the reception of patrons, and the proprietor has spared no expense in providing all requisites for the management of an up-to-date business. Mr. Rogers has had an extensive experience in embalming bodies and conducting funerals, having been associated with his father, who managed an undertaking establishment in New Brunswick for many years until his death, and was known throughout the county for his courteous treatment of patrons. In order to be well posted in the most approved methods of embalming and disinfecting, Mr. Rogers enrolled last fall as a student in the Renouard College of Embalming, of New York, and out of a large class was among the seven who were graduated last December with high honors. Besides his college diploma Mr. Rogers holds a State certificate, which entitles him to practice in the State of New Jersey. A beautiful sign, made of embossed wood letters, has been erected across the sidewalk in front of his parlor. Mr. Rogers advertises below.

Voorhees Rogers, David Farr and Ivan Morgan ventured down the bay yesterday afternoon in Rogers' motor boat, the Dixie, in quest of weakfish or anything else in the line of sea food that happened to come their way. As the waters were rough the would-be fishermen did not have a chance to drop their lines, and came home with the usual tale of disappointed anglers. The secret part of their trip is this, and must not be told to any one: As they could not fish in the rough waters of Raritan Bay, the party tried to land at Seidler's Beach, "where they expected to have purchased a string of fish, and on their return home would have told some "whopping" big fish stories; but they were almost swamped in the breakers and had to head for home with nothing but a lobster-colored complexion on Morgan's face and neck.

Mrs. W. J. Eckert has returned to her home in Poughkeepsie, after a two weeks' visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Farmer.

Joseph J. Farmer is visiting at Poughkeepsie and other points of interest along the Hudson River.

Old Tennesse Harvest Home and the Keypoint baby parade were chief attractions yesterday for South River pleasure seekers. A large crowd of town people attended both events. A stage load of young people went to the harvest home, and did not return until the wee small hours of the morning.

Mrs. Henry Kelch and daughter, Elizabeth, spent yesterday afternoon in New Brunswick.

Henry Herrmann, who has been enjoying the summer at Cass Lake, Mich., with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobson, arrived home last evening. Mr. Herrmann is much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lyle and son, Robert, left for New York this morning, and enjoyed the sail up the Hudson, viewing the sights along the river.

Mrs. Samuel Stevens was a New Brunswick visitor yesterday afternoon.

Riverside Council, No. 33, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold a regular meeting to-night in the Klausner building. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Armstrong is seriously ill at the home on Charles street. It is affected with cholera infantum.

"Gypsy Encampment." An affair which will afford much pleasure to all who attend is being planned by the social department of the Epworth League, and will be held on or about the 16th of August. It is a "Gypsy Encampment." There will be a gypsy fortune teller and several other side affairs, and lots of red light and Japanese lanterns. A committee has the matter in charge.

"Andrew Carnegie" is spending his vacation in and about the town. He visited Laker's lunch cafe a few evenings ago.

The friends of Henry Eberwein will be glad to know that he is recovering from the effects of a sprained kneecap. When seen at St. Peter's Hospital yesterday afternoon,

The Home News is not only a newspaper. It's a habit.

UNUSUAL FEATURES TO MARK AIR RACE

Aviators in Store-to-Store Fight from New York Next Saturday Face Odd Difficulties TO TEST AERIAL POST.

Difficulties of a nature never before encountered in an air craft race will have to be met by the three well-known aviators who will contest for the $5,000 prize offered by Gimbel Brothers in the between-stores race which will be held on Saturday with a view to experimenting on the package and letter delivery possibilities of airships.

The contest as planned by the managers of the two big Gimbel stores in New York and Philadelphia and the Curtis Exhibition Company of Hammondsport, N. Y., is over a mapped course between the Gimbel stores on Manhattan Island and Eighth and Market Sts., Philadelphia. The aviators, all of whom will use the latest models of Curtiss biplanes. In order to be counted as starting in the race, must travel fifty miles from the starting point, following as closely as possible the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad from the New York terminal in the direction of Trenton.

Each of the contestants will carry bags filled with messages, which will be dropped in different towns en route. Leaving Trenton they must follow the course of the Delaware River down to a point opposite Market street in this city and must steer on a straight line over the Gimbel store. After circling the building they will fly to Belmont plateau, where they will alight.

The three daring aviators, Charles K. Hamilton, Lincoln Beachey and Hugh Robinson, will start their long flight from Governor's Island about noon on Saturday, and are expected to make the trip haring accidents in less than two hours. Their course lies directly over the two large cities, and this fact alone makes the feat unusually hazardous, because of the many air currents invariably encountered.

Flying from Governor's Island the birdmen with their heavier-than-air craft will cross the Hudson River directly over the Gimbel Store, at Thirty-third street and Broadway, and there will have their time taken by members of the Aero Club of America and will start on the trip across New Jersey.

The race will be the first ever held in which the aviators must follow a prescribed route in order to win. Many races in the air have already been held in this country since the air craft reached a point of efficiency making racing possible, but in every instance aviators have flown as they saw fit and on courses presenting the least difficulty, their only object being to reach the goal first. On Saturday, however, such will not be the case and the aviator who is reported deviating from the prescribed course, to take advantage of favorable air currents will be ruled out by judges. As this part of the plan is the nature of an experiment its success or failure will be of especial interest to aviators the world over.

Another unusual difficulty that will have to be faced is the delivery of packages making up the two pounds of mail matter which the aviator will carry in a bag over his shoulder much in the manner in which postmen wear their delivery pouches. The question of the best to weigh the mail matter is
