He devoted most of his sermon to the peace of soul and mind which Christ gives to those who surrender fully to Him. Satan was depocted as going about creating confusion and chaos among men, while Christ was held up as the streat peacemaker—"the adjuster of the machinery put out of order by the cheins of men's souls," which, he call was sin.

"When a man realizes his need of God, then readjustment begins." said Dr. Haines. "God only can cause conviction of sin in men's hearts, but He speaks quietly. The peace of Christ does not mean inaction. It means the doing of work to bring others to realize the same peace that has been found."
