

"FITZ" JUST MISSED JURY DUTY

Former Pugilist Escaped by "Skin of His Teeth"—Edwin G. Fraser, of Perth Amboy, is Foreman—Five Local Men Chosen.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the former pugilist, and that present owner and manager of a farm in Middlesex borough, this county, just escaped jury duty by the "skin of his teeth," this morning, when the first Grand Jury under the new jury reform law of the State was selected here. The ex-fighter was in court to plead in person his request to be excused, in case his name should be among those called.

"Bob" Next on List.

Thirty-five names in all were called before the necessary twenty-two were secured, and the jury box was filled, there being twelve excused by the Court. The name of Robert Fitzsimmons was thirty-sixth on the list, so that the granting of one more excuse would have been called up.

Those Excused.

Those excused were: Edwin G. Fraser, of Perth Amboy; Fred F. Fox, of Perth Amboy; E. McComas, of Perth Amboy; Albert McNamee, of Perth Amboy; William H. Johnson, of Perth Amboy; F. W. Mueller, of Perth Amboy; Arthur Cozzens, of Perth Amboy; Charles Tausig, of Perth Amboy; William W. Emery, of Perth Amboy; John White, of Perth Amboy; John O. Cozzens, of Perth Amboy.

Charge to Jury.

The charge to the new Grand Jury was made by Justice Bergen, who said that the jury was selected in a fair and impartial manner, and that they were to be sworn to do justice according to the law.

Through Till Oct. 9.

The new Grand Jury consisted of twelve men, and will sit until October 9. The foreman is Edwin G. Fraser, and the other members are...

GOVERNMENT KICKS ON $100 RAISE

So Highland Park Loses Its Post Office Sub Station, as Joseph Danzis Refuses to Continue Work on Yearly Salary of $100—The Park Folks Agree With Former Postmaster.

Just because there was a difference of opinion between Joseph Danzis, the Highland Park druggist, and the United States Post Office Department as to how much the job of "postmaster" is worth, Highland Park has lost its sub post office station, which has been located for the past few years in the Karitan avenue drug store which was opened as Van Deuren's pharmacy and the business later sold to Mr. Danzis.
