B. FRENCH LOVED HIS LOCAL HEIRS

Testimony Adduced Before Ex-Judge Rice in Attack on Will—Stephen A. French, Brother of Testator, Is Contestant.

Testimony in the form of depositions taken here before Ex-Judge J. Rice, as Master in Chancery, the contest inaugurated in the Superior Court of California by Stephen French, of Asbury Park, to break will of his brother, William B. French, whose death occurred in Los Angeles, Cal., early in the present year.

Judge Cowenhoven represents the plaintiff attorney employed by Rev. William G. Pitt, of Bridgeton, executor of the will, and its proponent in the court of Los Angeles, while Erick Weigel represents the California lawyer employed by Stephen French, the contestant, who is now in California.

Mrs. Anna Lawrence and Mrs. Taylor Wood, of this city, as well as John Herbert, of the undertaking firm Herbert & Moke, were examined yesterday, and today Judge Rice recalled to the stand. He was aided by Rev. Paul Hayne, pastor of Livingston avenue Baptist Church. Matter is still on this afternoon.

William B. French was at one time agent of New Brunswick, and he devised an estate of $100,000 leaving $75,000 to Mrs. Sherman Pitt, daughter of Mrs. Anna Lawrence and the late John Lawrence, leaving $25,000 to this young woman, a local school teacher, and the late Mrs. Taylor Wood.

It will be recalled that Mr. French died in death by about a year ago. Mrs. Pitt and her husband, who was a former New Brunswick school teacher, and her brothers, Sam B. and Stephen A. French, of the $100,000 each.

Wants to Adopt Daughter. The testimony of Mrs. Lawrence of the close relationship existing between her family and that of William French, who married Miss Jennie Beck, sister of Mrs. Lawrence and Wood. It was shown that Mr. French lived for a considerable time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and that he always displayed a deep affection for the latter of the Lawrences, who is Mrs. S. G. Pitt. In fact he had expressed a desire to adopt this young woman, his own children having died young. His love for Mrs. Pitt was on every occasion and continuing to the time of his death.

Mrs. Lawrence testified that at one time Mrs. William B. French was very fond of her and that she was called for and cared for by Mrs. Pitt and that Mr. French keenly appreciated this tender care for his wife. Mr. French always responded to her calls at this time and for a time after his wife's death, he made his home with the Pitts. French, it was shown, died at

Vigilance Squad to Guard Bayonne After Fatal Riot

BAYONNE, Oct. 12.—A vigilance committee to protect homes and property in this city during the time which the police cannot stop was officially recognized by the authorities. Nearly 200 young men on the committee were sworn in special police. They were told, however, that no lynching would be had. They were asked to aid in bringing order.

Milltown to Have a National Bank

J. Burr Herbert has received word from the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C., that the application of himself and four others to organize a First National Bank of Milltown has been approved. Announcement was made in the Sunday Times several weeks ago of such a plan.

There will be a lot of red tape to go through yet before the bank is established, but it is hoped to open in January.

The incorporators are John V. L. Booram, Dr. N. N. Forney, Christian Kuhlthau, Charles C. Richter and John Burr Herbert.

Local Candidate for Congress Comes Back at "Deep Water Tom" for Criticism Made at Perth Amboy Meeting

MILLTOWN, Oct. 12.—There were about a hundred and seventy-five voters present at the Republican mass meeting held at Red Men's Hall last evening. The evening's program was started with music by a band on the front porch of the building. Red fire, etc., was displayed, after which candidates and voters proceeded to the upper room, where the meeting was called to order by Borough Clerk Robert A. Harkins. Mayor William Kuhlthau, Jr., was introduced as chairman of the meeting, after which Congressman W. M. Chandler, of New York, presented some interesting facts of the present administration as far as the tariff is concerned, revenue, foreign policy of the President, his Mexican policy, etc.

JR. O. U. A. M. WILL NOT END $750 BENEFITS

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 12.—Efforts to abolish the class B fund providing for the payment of $750 to beneficiaries of members of the order, instead of $500, as called for in class A, failed at the twenty-fourth annual session of the New Jersey Funeral Benefit Association, an auxiliary of the Jr. O. U. A. M., held here Tuesday on the Steel Pier. Balloting for officers, members of the board of managers and the auditing committee resulted in the reelection of the following without opposition: President, George H. Poulson; vice president, Thomas H. Irwin; secretary, Howard S. Norris of General Custer Council, Newark; treasurer, Frank L. Morton of George H. Adams Council, Newark; managers, William J. Wakefield, Jr.

City Decked in Scarlet For Rutgers Celebration Today; Pageant Remarkably Beautiful

The Rutgers Scarlet was in evidence throughout the city this morning and bespoke the hearty welcome of the City of New Brunswick to the guests who are coming here for the big celebration that is being held by the college and of their deep congratulations to the institution that has so long been one of the most vital factors in our civic life.

The Board of Trade had canvassed the merchants of the city and had supplied them all with banners especially prepared for the occasion. These were displayed everywhere, and, added to the special decorations that many of the merchants put up in their store windows and outside the buildings, they presented a handsome appearance. The banners bear a picture of Queen's Building and bear the legend "Rutgers College, 1786-1916."

Registration started today at the Alumni and Faculty House, and

Special Stories of the Public Schools In Sunday Times

One of the special features of the next issue of the New Brunswick Times on Sunday, October 15, will be a page devoted to the interests of the public schools of the city. There will be a picture of the first Bayard street school and also an historical sketch of the starting of the public school system in this city.

Another feature of this page will be a story accompanying a picture of the class of 1914 and telling what each member of the class is now doing.

Every parent and school boy will want to see this page. Order your copy today from the newsdealer.

GERMANY TO GET CONTROL OF SEAS BY SUBMARINES

NEWPORT, Oct. 12.—Germany plans to sweep the sea with a flotilla of 300 submarines, said Mrs. Noah Thompson, formerly Fraulein Wilhelmina Shell, quoting Captain Rose, of the German U-53, who called at her home while his ship was here last week. She said Captain Rose told her the letter mailed to Count von Bernstorff gave information of Germany's plans to gain control of the seas through submarines.

"By the first of January," she says, "the German fleet will be ready to sweep the seas of every ship by submarine warfare. This plan will be voted for by the Reichstag and carried out to the letter, no matter what happens."

Mrs. Thompson has five brothers in the German army.

Grand Jury Will Be in Session Tomorrow

The Grand Jury will meet tomorrow for the consideration of thirty criminal complaints listed by Prosecutor Joseph E. Stricker. All of the cases on tomorrow's list, so far as announced, are of a minor character.

This will be the second session for the September Term Grand Jury, of which Robert M. Pettit, of this city, is foreman.

PROPERTY SALES IN NEW JERSEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Batson Farm Agency has sold the Miramonte farm of eighty-seven acres at Belton, two miles from New Brunswick, said to be one of the finest farms in Middlesex county, to J. Freeman. The property was held at $35,000.

The George E. Loeffler Land and Improvement Company sold through F. Neumuller to the Lehigh Valley Railroad, eleven acres at Oak Tree.

Streets Named After Local Celebrities

A real estate development that is attracting considerable attention is advertised elsewhere in this issue and has to do with the sale of building lots of the Parkview Corporation, located on Easton avenue, just opposite Buechler Park.

The tract contains nearly 600 lots and has been divided into streets, as follows: Parker street, Daly street, Hymie street, Farrington street, Silver street, Houghton street, March street and Marcha street. It is intersected by a broad avenue, named Stricker avenue.

The promoters of the tract are Joseph E. Stricker and Hyman Friedman, of Perth Amboy, and James A. O'Connell, of this city. The offer is an attractive one, and the street designations, as will be readily observed, are taken for the most part from the names of prominent officials and politicians of this vicinity.

Trolley and Auto Collide at Piscataway

An automobile with license number 95850 N. J., was struck by a Middlesex trolley car at 7:53 last night at the intersection of the Old Post Road and Woodbridge avenue at Piscataway. The auto turned to the right going in the direction of Perth Amboy, while the trolley was coming to this city. The number of the trolley was 2225. The Overland car was pushed on the tracks by the trolley for a distance of about fifty feet and was considerably damaged.

Peter Burke and Charles Breninger, the two passengers in the auto, escaped serious injuries. The latter had his eye-glasses broken and was bruised. He was attended by Dr. Merrill, of Highland Park.

opened yesterday afternoon when a public dress rehearsal of the Anniversary Pageant was presented at the college farm. Unlike most affairs of this sort, the advance notices have not been bigger than the event itself, but it more than lived up to them all. In fact, it transcended anything that had been written about it.

Two centuries and more were rolled away out at the farm. During the course of the afternoon the veil that has been cast over the events of the past was lifted, and the seven hundred spectators who gathered for the big event were able to see the scenes of the early history of the city and the college acted before them in real life.

Presented on the grassy slope on the lake of the College Farm, with the hills gently rising on the other side of the water, forming a natural

Action on Utilities by State Commission

TRENTON, Oct. 12.—The Board of Utility Commissioners to-day announced that on October 24 it will continue its hearing in the matter of its investigation of rate charges by the Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company and the New York Telephone Company. The board on that date will meet at the State House at 11 o'clock in the morning and proceed to take testimony of its engineers as to the method employed by the companies in ascertaining the values of their properties and so forth.

STRETCH BANNERS TO ADVERTISE EGAN ROAD BILL

Novel Campaign Inaugurated to Secure Votes at Referendum in November Election—Good and Bad Roads Placarded.

Motorists of New Jersey traveling over the routes which are included in the Egan Good Roads measure, from now until election day, November 7th, will have before their eyes a gentle and strong reminder of the purpose of the bill which will come up for their decision on that day. As part of the campaign being waged for the passage of the referendum vote by the people of New Jersey, bands of men have started through parts of the State with canvas banners which will be stretched over bad stretches of road.

The banner will contain suitable inscriptions and catchy expressions designed to remind not alone automobile motorists but the public in general of the advantages of voting favorably on the referendum measure.

At present the men are engaged in touring through the State over the

TRAFFIC RULES FOR VEHICLES AT CELEBRATION

Chief O'Connell announced today that no traffic will be permitted on George street between the Rutgers campus and the First Reformed Church, tomorrow morning, during the progress of the Rutgers parade, which will start at about 10:15.

Police officers will be on the route to see that this traffic condition is obeyed.

Special rules have been made for the parking of automobiles on the College avenue commons, opposite Neilson Field for the Rutgers-Washington and Lee game. The commons will be roped and cars should be parked in that space. The parking of cars on College avenue between Senior and Morrell streets, will not be permitted, nor on Senior street or at the entrance to Neilson Field.

This section will be policed during the afternoon. The entrance to the parking grounds will be through Ray street only.

It is expected that nearly a thousand automobiles will convey people to the game. The rules as set forth must be followed out to avoid confusion.

"Old Man" McCormick Beats Out 'Andy' White at Ye Ancient Game of Golf

In the play-off today at the New Brunswick Country Club for the golf championship, Charles Augustus McCormick, treasurer of Johnson & Johnson, cleaned up his younger rival "Andy" White. It was a thirty-six hole go and Mr. McCormick won out by six up and four to go.

Mr. McCormick arrived at the links somewhat peeved by the intimation in the Home News last night that he was an old man. The Home News did not say he was old, but simply remarked that Andy White had youth and Scotch ancestry on his side. Mr. McCormick, therefore, girded up his loins and kept his eye on the ball up such advantage that he really made a show of "young Mr. White." People in the gallery said that "Mac" showed some wonderful golf. In any event he has the club championship and the cup which goes with it.

All in all it was a fitting climax for Columbus Day, of which Mr. McCormick is a Knight errant.

RED SOX CHAMPIONS OF WORLD

Boston Humbles Unlucky, Plucky Brooklyn Team—Olson's Errors Costly—Big Crowd Sees Wind-Up of the World's Series in the Hub.

THE BATTING ORDER. Brooklyn.

H. Myers.....Center Field Daubert.....First Base Stengel.....Right Field Wheat.....Left Field Cutshaw.....Second Base Mowrey.....Third Base Olson.....Shortstop Meyers.....Catcher Pfeffer.....Pitcher

By winning their fourth game from the Brooklyn Dodgers today, the Boston Red Sox became champions of the world.

BRAVES' FIELD Boston, Oct. 12.—As the Red Sox took the field this afternoon in the fifth game of the World's Series Championship with Brooklyn they showed vim and dash. On the other hand, the Dodgers seemed downcast.

A crowd estimated at 44,000 witnessed the game, the record assemblage being due to the holiday here.

Manager Carrigan picked Ernie Shore as his pitcher, and Cady went behind the bat. "Jeff" Pfeffer was the pitcher for Brooklyn, while Meyers received.

FIRST INNING. Myers fanned. Daubert out, Cady to Hobby. Stengel safe at first on Scott's fumble of his grounder. Wheat was out on a fly to Hobby. No runs.

Hooper out, Cutshaw to Daubert. Janvrin out, Mowrey to Daubert, and Shorten flied out to Wheat. No runs.

SECOND INNING. Cutshaw walked. Mowrey was out on a sacrifice. Hobby to Shore, the latter covering first. Cutshaw went to second, and then went to third while Olson was being retried at first by Hobby. Cutshaw scored on a short passed ball which eluded Cady. Meyers was an easy out. One run.

Hobby out at first. Lewis tripled along the left field foul line. He scored on Gardner's sacrifice fly to Myers. Scott sent a high fly to Mowrey and he dropped it. Scott then lifted to Meyers in front of the plate. One run.

THIRD INNING. Pfeffer fanned. Myers out, Gardner to Hobby. Daubert out, Shore to Hobby. No runs.

Cady singled to Wright. Shore flied to Meyers. Hooper walked. Cady scored on Olson's error. Hooper went to third on the error and Janvrin stopped at first. Olson handled Janvrin's grounder miserably and then threw wild to second trying for a force out. Olson is officially charged with two errors. Janvrin out stealing. Meyers to Olson. Shorten singled to center, scoring Hooper. Shorten out stealing. Meyers to Olson. Two runs.

FOURTH INNING. Stengel flied to Shorten. Wheat fanned. Cutshaw out, Shore to Hobby. No runs.

Hobby walked. Lewis sacrificed him to second. Cutshaw covered first and took Daubert's throw. Gardner out, Cutshaw to Daubert. Hobb going to third. Scott out, Olson to Daubert. No runs.

FIFTH INNING. Mowrey out, Gardner to Hobby. Olson flied to Shorten. Meyers singled. It was the first hit off Shore. Shorten knocked down Meyers' drive, but failed to hold it, and it went for a hit. Pfeffer out, Gardner to Hobby.

Cady out, Olson to Daubert. Shore out on fly to Wheat. Hooper singled to center and scored on Janvrin's double. Janvrin went to third on a wild pitch. Shorten fanned. One run.

For final score see box below.
