

Shadow and Light--

SOMETIMES when we wake, the morning is peopled with shadows; other times with light. But most times the shadows and light depend upon our moods.

Van Dyk's Duchess coffee for breakfast will make the shadowy mornings light—and the light mornings lighter.

Samuel White, Ran Down by Automobile, Is Awarded $74

Samuel White of this city, was given a judgment for $74 against Peter Dutka of South River, in the local District Court by Judge Woodbridge this afternoon, as a result of an automobile accident which occurred at the corner of George and Morris streets on the morning of June 22 last.

It was testified by the plaintiff that he was standing at the corner of George and Morris street when he saw the auto of Dutka about two hundred feet away. He said that in attempting to cross the street, he was struck by Dutka who he believed, had become confused in driving his machine.

The defense was to the effect that White had shown negligence in stepping off of the curb, and stepped directly in front of Dutka's machine. Judge Woodbridge in passing judgment exonerated Mr. White of all blame, and declared that Dutka had apparently shown some negligence and was responsible for Mr. White's injuries.

Horace Barwis represented the plaintiff and George L. Burton, the defendant in the action.

Other Judgments

The Consolidated Art Calendar Works was given a judgment for $22.80 against Arrest Johnson, a local tailor. Suit was brought on a contract.

The Peoples National Bank brought suit against George Witt to recover $27.67 on a note which went to protest and was awarded a judgment for this amount.

The Haverford Cycle Company sued to recover a motorcycle sold to John Sulovsky and was given a judgment of $100.

Thomas P. Burt, trading as T. P. Burt, Jr., was given a judgment for $500 against Joseph Oizerowitz and Lena Oizerowitz. Suit was brought on a contract.

AT THE STRAND.

"The Death Dance," Miss Alice Brady's latest Select Picture, will be seen here at the Strand theatre today. The story deals with Flora Farnsworth, a dancing girl (Alice Brady), for which role Miss Brady devoted much time to the mastering of a difficult character dance.

Billy West in his new comedy, "He's In Again," is on the same bill; also the very latest Universal Current events.

MILLTOWN. MILLTOWN MAY START WORK SOON ON NEW STREETS

MILLTOWN, Jan. 9.—Every Councilman was present at the session of Borough Council last night. Borough Clerk Harkins was absent, however, as he is serving on the jury, and Councilman Crabel acted as clerk. Council was mainly occupied with deciding the appropriations for the year and the work was not completed when adjournment was made until Friday night, Jan. 17th.

A liberal appropriation is contemplated for streets and roads as the general feeling seemed to be that the time is right for a policy that will give the streets the attention that is required. In addition to the grading of Cottage avenue and the opening of Norman Place, there is Van Liew avenue which has drawn forth some adverse comments lately from residents on that street, to be improved and also other road work.

If the remarks of the Councilmen can be taken as earnest of their intentions in respect to the streets, it is quite certain Milltown will be considerably improved and beautified by its thoroughfares being put in good condition.

The fire department is also in line for a liberal appropriation. New hose and other supplies are needed and there were several members of the department present last night to present the needs of the fire company if the members of the board are acquainted with the things necessary to increase the efficiency of the borough fire fighters.

In accordance with the Mayor's New Year message recommending a fire alarm system, Council has investigated and is considering entering an appropriation to cover a system which will likely cost in the neighborhood of $2,500.

The report of Councilman W. R. Evans for the light committee, contained the information that there is not a single electric delinquent on the books for the years 1917 and 1918. This department is in charge of Superintendent Samuel Speirs and Assistant Superintendent, John Barries, and the excellent showing is due to their activities.

Nicholas Wagner while crossing the ice on the pond near the cove on Tuesday night, broke through, and but for some quick work by a crowd of young men nearby, would have fared badly. His rescuers led by John Miller stretched out on the thin ice and by this distributing their weight managed to reach a pole to him which he seized and was pulled out.

During the past week the enrollment at the public school passed the five hundred mark. The school is steadily growing larger and furnishes a good barometer of the growth of the borough in general.

WILL SNEDEKER, HERO OF ARGONNE, AT CAMP MERRITT

JAMESBURG, Jan. 9.—One of the first heroes of the war from Jamesburg has been greeted by his parents in the person of Willard Snedeker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Snedeker, who arrived from Camp Merritt on Sunday. As told in his letters to his parents he is minus his right leg above the knee, but is in fine spirits and expects to come home in a few days. He is a member of Company B, Fifth Machine Gun Battalion, second division, which had been used as shock troops on four fronts.

He was wounded on October 3d in the big Argonne battle by a shell that burst among his men, killing his lieutenant and two privates, and wounding eight privates. Snedeker among them. He was removed to an evacuation hospital and the leg was amputated the following day. At the time he was hit he was helping move the battalion equipment forward to lay down barbed wire which would enable the infantry to capture its third line of trenches for the day.

"I wasn't surprised when I got mine," said Snedeker. "We were jumped from one front to another for months. Every time the Americans started something, it seemed we were used as the starters. And believe me, the Second Division could travel some. Willard is very enthusiastic and feels only for the unfortunates who will never come home."

Why Meat Prices Vary in Different Stores. These newspaper quotations represent live cattle prices in Chicago on December 30th, 1918. The list shows price ranges on nine general classified groups with a spread of $13.85 per cwt.—the lowest at $6.50, and the highest at $20.35. Why this variation in price? Because the meat from different animals varies greatly in quality and weight. Although the quotations shown are in nine divisions, Swift & Company grades cattle into 34 general classes, and each class into a variety of weights and qualities. As a result of these differences in cattle prices, (due to differences in weights and meat qualities), there is a range of 15 cents in Swift & Company's selling prices of beef carcasses. These facts explain: 1—Why retail prices vary in different stores. 2—Why it would be difficult to regulate prices of cattle or beef. 3—Why it requires experts to judge cattle and to sell meat, so as to yield the profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound—a profit too small to affect prices. JAMESBURG.

Mechanics' Home Council Installs New Officers

JAMESBURG, Jan. 9.—Mechanics Home Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., installed officers Tuesday night as follows: Councilor, Oliver Richards; vice councilor, Albert Tice; warden, Thomas Douglas; conductor, Grayson Van Cleef; outside guard, Thomas Snedeker; inside guard, Ralph Brown; assistant recording secretary, Fred L. Day; representative to State Council, Ray M. Hampton; chaplain, Russell Vandenberg; janitor, Albert S. Owens. The installing officer was the senior member, W. H. Lokerson, and appreciating the honor, Harry very generously "blew" the members present to a liberal assortment of refreshments. Edward Snedeker has just closed the most successful night-hunting season in some years. He has caught seventeen raccoons and two opossums and the average price has been seven dollars apiece.

Walter S. Graham has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Past Councilors Association, of Middlesex County.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mulvey, of Rahway, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Mount, of Willow street, the former returning from Camp Crockett, Virginia.

Corporal Harry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, who has just returned from England, is ill with an attack of tonsillitis, his first illness since entering the service a year ago.

Good audiences are attending the cottage prayer meetings being held in the First Baptist church during the present week as a "Week of Prayer."

John H. Enright has the contract for the re-lettering of the plant of Stonaker & Harvey grain elevator on Railroad avenue.

Mrs. Julius Linke has received word from her son Edward Linke, that he is well and that he expects shortly to start home from France. Two weeks ago Private Linke was reported as "missing in action" but there was no foundation for this report, as he was not missing at all.

James P. Casey, one of Jamesburg's most successful business men, has decided to leave town after a residence of eight years. He will become a member of the firm of Jones & Casey, and will locate at Howell, in the general food business. He will retain his residence here and commute to Howell daily. He was for two years associated with Harvey Stonaker and his tact did much to build that business to its present worth.

Mrs. Peter LaPlace has received a letter from her son, Joseph in France, that is full of exciting tales of his life as a soldier and also of the terrifying experiences that he passed through in doing his bit. He has been gassed three times and at this writing is in excellent health and expects to return to Jamesburg soon. He is a member of Company E, Machine Gun Battalion, and is a wagoner.

Few Voters Turn Out to Vote on School Budget

JAMESBURG, Jan. 9.—Less than a dozen voters turned out at the election held in Grammar school building on Tuesday night to vote on the appropriation for the present year. There was not one vote registered against the amount asked, $5,775. The men acting as officers at the election were: George R. Bailey, Condit M. Davison, Jacob Hauser, J. A. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Mount have returned from South Amboy where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rice.

The case between Dominick Banqua and Victor Pallavo scheduled at borough Hall was postponed until Monday.

CRANBURY.

CRANBURY, Jan. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wycoff have returned to Asbury Park, after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Emmons.
