

PASTORS PRAYED FOR DRENCHED CITY

Rain Kept People Away From the Last Week of Prayer Service.

What was expected to be the most interesting and largely attended meeting of the series of week of prayer services, turned out last evening to be the most poorly attended. The weather was to blame. The subject was one which appealed to the masses, "Family, Home and City." The speakers had given the subject much attention and the fifty people in all who braved the storm and attended the meeting were rewarded with most helpful addresses.

Rev. J. E. Sawin presided. Rev. Geo. H. Payson, who is filling the pulpit of the Second Reformed Church during the absence of Dr. Hutton, made the address. He presented an eloquent plea for bringing the children into the church as a measure for conserving the welfare of the institutions upon which he spoke. There was great peril to the individual—an increasing peril—when the child which has attained the age of ten or twelve is not brought into the church and thus under the influence of Christ.

He pleaded that when all should go up before the High Throne, none should come unable to answer, "Where is the God entrusted to thee?" Might it be invoked, that all should be able to say, "Here am I Lord, and here are those thou entrusted to me."

Following the talk, Rev. Mr. Sawin called upon lay members in the audience for prayers. There were two responses, to which Rev. A. B. Sears added a third. Reference in the form of pleas for aid to success was made to the present civic righteousness movement.

In the closing moments of the service, Rev. Mr. Sawin summed up the results of the work. What had been accomplished, he asked, for the home, for the country, for the city? None could tell, he replied. The prayers had gone up and their effect would surely be felt. What, he asked, has the little harpist to do toward making the Atlantic and all the mighty oceans on the face of the world? It does its part. From every shore, down from the mountains where they have their sources, pour streams like it, some smaller, some larger, making in their united volume the great waters of the globe. So with prayers poured into heaven. Like the blood of the heart, pouring out and touching every part of our physical body, so prayers poured into the heart of Christ go out, touching all the world, and so must go forth, the influences of the services just closing.

TOO MANY FADS IN PATERSON, TOO

This statement of Mr. Armstrong, of New Brunswick, that there were too many fads in the schools, is of considerable interest to us here in Paterson, just at this time. We are seemingly getting into those faddish movements ourselves, and the warning may come in timely fashion. If Mr. Armstrong would go out as a missionary and preach the doctrine of reform in school methods and management, he would do a great work, and his might commence in Paterson with good effect. We have not progressed very far in that respect, but we are beginning, and Mr. Armstrong might serve as an ounce of preventative, lest later on we might need the pound of cure.

Perhaps some of the fads which the New Brunswick man talks about are better than others, but there is one he talks which has become a source of complaint in several schools. That is where he refers to "the needy lecturers" who find an easier way of lecturing on their fads than by working for a living. In this matter, Paterson school teachers have always been found the easiest kind of marks. One of the upper class of them will find out some man with a peculiarity, and the first thing done is to engage him to tell all about it.—Paterson Evening News.

FACTORY STILL IS ANTI-TRUST

place. The rug manufacturer had offered $40,000 cash for the place, and he had intimated that he would pay the price asked, $48,000, rather than lose the building. On the first of the year the price was raised to $50,000, and it was then that Mr. Russell secured the building. The papers for the deal were signed in the office of Nichols & Co., with whom Mr. Lyons is associated in factories and factory sites.

Mr. Russell says that he will begin operations as soon as he can equip the building for his purposes. He has engaged Mr. Perry, of Milltown, as master mechanic and engineer. Mr. Perry was formerly with the Milltown Rubber Company, and also with the United States Rubber Company.

The building has had an interesting history. After the Milltown branch of the United States Rubber Company had been idle for years, the late John C. Evans, who had been the superintendent of the trust factory, severed his connections and built the immense brick structure which became known as the Milltown India Rubber Co.

He threw his whole energy into the building of the plant, equipping it with modern methods of making rubber shoes. Local capital invested into the enterprise heavily. Besides the people of Milltown, who entered into the company willingly with their savings in order to start again the industry which had been the support of Milltown for years, New Brunswick people invested their money. Edward H. Babel, Gottfried Krueger and Matthew Snydam were among the principal investors.

The company had a hard time fighting the trust. At first it seemed prosperous, but at times when more money was needed to put into the business, the money was not forthcoming, and the concern was pushed to the wall. The strain told on Mr. Evans and he died suddenly of a stroke of apoplexy.

Then a receiver was appointed and, as told in the Home News, the plant was sold by Trustee W. E. Florence to Fred Smith, of Providence, who is supposed to have bought the place in for the rubber trust.

The corner-stone of the plant was laid in 1896, and it was the following Spring that the plant began operations. George K. Parsell was the architect. William H. Van Sickle & Son were the mason contractors, and J. & T. Holman, the contracting carpenters of the building. It was built under the rules of the Mutual Insurance Company. It has patent ceiling sprinklers, automatic iron doors and the stairways are enclosed in a brick tower outside the main walls. It has railroad switches and spurs, tracts and cars on two upper floors. The main building is 302 feet long by 60 wide, the eels are 40x6, and the tower 23x23. The floor space is 57,500 feet.

The new factory will be a great boom to Milltown and it is to be hoped to New Brunswick, as many of the hands will be drawn from here.

"There is a decided boom in factories at the present time, in fact more demand than we can supply in and around New Brunswick," said Mr. Lyons, in an interview. "For some reason, not only are manufacturers coming out from New York, but we have applications from both the Northwest and East. Our New York factories have not been in as great demand as those out of town, and nearby towns are offering all sorts of inducements, while we offer nothing but low prices and facilities."

"Mr. Russell feels he has obtained a great bargain as a New York appraiser has assured him it would cost him $185,000 to replace to-day."

ASSEMBLYMAN SHEDAKER WOULD LIKE BUDD'S PLACE

TRENTON, Jan. 7.—Benjamin D. Shedaker, Republican Assemblyman from Burlington County, has announced himself as a candidate for the position of commissioner of public roads, to succeed Henry I. Budd, of Mt. Holly. The place pays a salary of $2,500 a year, and the term is three years. Commissioner Budd has held the position since 1885, when he was appointed by Governor Werts. He was reappointed for full terms by Governors Griggs, Voorhees and Murphy. His present term will expire this year. Since he has been head of the department more than 1,000 miles of improved roads have been constructed by the State, placing New Jersey first in the matter of good road building. Assemblyman Shedaker is a farmer and seed merchant at Edgewater Park. This is his third term in the Assembly.

At the time Miss Pearce would not leave the company and those who watched the love-making thought it was at an end.

The couple decided to get married at Asbury Park, but Miss Pearce did not leave the Bijou Company until the latter part of last week. She came a great distance to keep the marriage date.

MISS ROSA GERBING, CROWN POINT, IND.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO USE PE-RU-NA.

HEALTHY WOMEN

Praise Pe-Ru-na as a Cure and Preventative of Catarrhal Disorders.

Miss Elizabeth Uber, No. 67 Bassett street, Albany, N. Y., writes:

"I have always dreaded the fall and winter because of my extreme liability to catch cold, when catarrhal trouble would quickly develop through my entire system which I would take weeks to drive away. I am thankful to say that since I have taken Peruna, I do not have any reason to dread this any more. Last fall when I suffered with my old trouble I took Peruna and in nine days was completely cured and since that time, if I have been at all exposed to the damp, wet or cold weather, I take a dose or two of Peruna and it throws out any hint of sickness from my system. I gladly endorse it."—Miss Elizabeth Uber.

Mrs. Wm. Dewey, Saranac Lake, N. Y., is a second cousin of Admiral Dewey. In a recent letter she says:

"Peruna is the most valuable of any remedy that I have ever used for coughs, colds, etc. I cheerfully recommend it as a certain cure if used according to directions."—Mrs. Wm. Dewey.

Miss Rosa Gerbing, a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., writes:

"Last winter I took a long drive in the country, and being too thinly clad I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peruna for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did for it brought speedy relief. It only took two bottles and I consider this money well spent."

"You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Miss Rosa Gerbing.

To neglect a cold is to invite chronic catarrh. As soon as anyone discovers the first symptoms of catching cold he should at once begin the use of Peruna according to directions on the bottle, and the cold is sure to pass away without leaving any bad effects.

Unless this is done the cold is almost sure to end in the second stage of catarrh which is making so many lives miserable. If Peruna was taken every time one has a cold or cough chronic catarrh would be practically an unknown disease.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
